OAOS 2025 ANNUAL ORTHOPAEDIC CONFERENCE

Join us for an exciting two-day, in-person educational experience led by some of the most respected orthopedic surgeons in the field. This year's theme, "The Aging Spectrum in Orthopaedics," will take a comprehensive look at how age impacts orthopaedic care across a wide range of practice areas. Sessions will explore treatment strategies tailored to various life stages — from pediatrics to geriatrics — with special attention to age-specific considerations, surgical techniques, and recovery protocols. The program will also highlight approaches to patient optimization for better outcomes at every age, and address the evolving needs of the ageless athlete — individuals who continue to pursue active lifestyles well into later years. Together, these topics will provide attendees with dynamic, practical insights to enhance patient care in a changing demographic landscape.

Our conference attracts 100 orthopedic surgeons, residents, and physician assistants from across the Pacific Northwest, providing a valuable opportunity to connect directly with a highly engaged audience of medical professionals. These attendees are actively seeking innovative solutions, clinical tools, and meaningful partnerships that can enhance patient care and advance their practice.
